WHAT MAKES MARITIMO OCEANS APART?

When you consider that Australia is the world's largest island, it comes as no surprise it's home to the world's finest long-range cruising motoryachts. After all, with a coastline measuring almost 32,000 nautical miles in length, and facing the Indian,

Southern and Pacific oceans', it's the perfect place to test the skills of a boat builder. For Australia's Bill Barry-Cotter, that test has continued for 40 years, making him Australia's most awarded boat builder in the process. And this lifelong passion has culminated in the launch of Maritimo, a collection of luxury motoryachts without peer. In fact, nothing on water looks, feels or performs quite like the Maritimo. It simply manages to be both timeless and ahead of its time. It truly is oceans apart.

MARITIMO C47 SPORTS CABRIOLET. A NEW THOROUGHbred HAS ARRIVED.

The addition of the C47 Sports Cabriolet to the Maritimo stable has caused an even bigger stir than normal.

That's because the design team has managed to retain virtually all the features of its larger siblings in a much more compact package. This intelligent use of space extends to a selection of cabin accommodation. There's the traditional 3-cabin layout or, for more intimate cruising, the C47 with full beam master bedroom could be your pick.

Whatever the choice, you'll enjoy all the style, technology and luxury that the Maritimo Sports Cabriolet series offers. Including a hydraulic transom garage to hold your tender, or some toys.

Furthermore, like every Maritimo, an advanced hull design provides superb balance and poise, so you'll never bury the stern or ride bow high – or use fuel inefficiently. However, in a world-first, the C47 also has Volvo certified IPS installation with positive buoyancy tanks. So when you saddle up in this new addition to the Maritimo fleet, you'll be in one of the safest IPS powered motoryachts ever built.
